

REPORT ON CORPORATE INCOME TAX INFORMATION

in compliance with chapter 10a of Directive 2013/34/EU ('country-by-country reporting')

Introduction

This report on income tax information has been prepared for Hillenbrand, Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries for the reporting year from 1 October 2024 to 30 September 2025 in accordance with the applicable EU Public Country-by-Country Reporting requirements. As Hillenbrand, Inc. is governed by the law of a non-EU jurisdiction, VMI S.A.S. has been designated to file this report with the French Commercial Court Registry on behalf of the Group.

The information presented in this report is based on the data included in Hillenbrand's OECD Country-by-Country Report as filed for the reporting period. The same data has been used for this report and presented in accordance with the applicable EU Public Country-by-Country Reporting requirements. The underlying financial information is based on financial information prepared under US GAAP for group reporting purposes. The reporting currency is US dollars. Amounts maintained in currencies other than US dollars have been translated into US dollars using Bloomberg-sourced exchange rates. In this respect, full-year profit and loss amounts in local currency were translated using a 12-month average of the monthly exchange rates, while spot exchange rates were used for balance-sheet items.

The information is presented separately for the jurisdictions required to be disclosed on a country-by-country basis under the applicable EU and local requirements, with the remaining third-country jurisdictions aggregated under "All other tax jurisdictions (aggregated basis)". The preparation approach has been applied consistently across the tax jurisdictions included in the report.

Section 5. Explanations for material discrepancies between income tax paid and accrued

Explanation of any material discrepancies between income tax paid and accrued Income tax accrued represents the current income tax expense recognised in respect of the reporting period, whereas income tax paid on a cash basis represents tax payments and refunds occurring during the reporting period. The two amounts may therefore relate to different periods. Differences between income tax accrued and income tax paid principally arise from the timing of tax instalments, payments and refunds, the settlement or true-up of liabilities relating to previous financial years, withholding taxes, tax-group or cross-border tax-payment arrangements, and other adjustments arising under applicable accounting and tax rules. Consequently, income tax paid during a particular financial year is not necessarily directly comparable with the current income tax expense accrued in respect of that same financial year.
